Postponed and Canceled Raffles – COVID-19

As of 4/28/2020

During the COVID-19 public health emergency declared pursuant to Executive Order #72, the following guidance applies through June 25, 2020 for postponed and canceled raffles. Additional guidance will be issued on or after June 25, 2020.

Postponed Events/Raffles – If your entire event is postponed and/or your raffle is postponed.

1. Suspend all sales. When you know you are postponing your event, you should stop all sales.
2. Advertise as widely as practical that the event is being postponed. Advertising of the postponement should be at least as wide as the original advertising for the event or raffle. The goal is to get notice of your postponement to all individuals who purchased raffle tickets. Advertising could include on websites, Facebook pages, email, mail, newspaper, etc.
3. Reschedule your event to a new date as soon as possible. We ask that you attempt to select a new date that is within six months or 180 days of the original event date. We realize that this may not be possible and, if this is a concern, we will work with you to determine what best fits your situation. Please contact us if this timeframe will be problematic for you.
4. Notify all purchasers of the new date, time and location. As the licensed organization, the onus is on you to inform all ticket purchasers of the changes to the raffle they purchased tickets for. You should take at least the following steps:
 - a. Create a written notice to attach to unsold tickets. The notice should clearly state the new date, time, and location.
 - b. If you know the email or street addresses of purchasers, you should email or mail these same notices to all existing purchasers.
 - c. Post the new event information in the same locations where you advertised the postponement.
5. Resume ticket sales. Once you have the new event information, in writing to attach/distribute with unsold tickets and to disseminate to purchasers, you can resume all ticket sales and sell up through the new drawing date.
6. Refunds. If a purchaser no longer wants to participate, for any reason, you will need to refund the full amount that was paid for the tickets. Be sure to keep the refunded ticket stub, with the purchaser's information, and the canceled check for recordkeeping and proof of refund for one year after the drawing occurs.

7. All prizes must be awarded. All prizes for rescheduled raffles need to be awarded and not rolled into another fundraising activity.
8. Deceased winners. If a winner has passed away, the prize will need to be awarded to the decedent's estate or whomever oversees the estate.

Important Notes:

1. If you intend to postpone your event, you must announce the postponement on or before June 25, 2020.
2. Ticket sales cannot occur more than one year prior to the event. For example, if you began selling tickets on September 1, 2019 for an event originally scheduled for April 18, 2020, you should reschedule the event to occur before September 1, 2020.
3. Your raffle license must be valid the entire duration of the raffle. Make sure to file your renewal, prior to the expiration date, to ensure your license does not lapse.

Canceled Events – If your event is canceled but you still wish to hold your original raffle drawing.

- A. Same location. If you decide to draw at the same location, date, and time listed on the ticket (despite the cancellation of the event) there is no need to take further action.

Different location. If you change the location of your drawing, but are drawing on the same date and time, then take the following steps:

1. Advertise the fact that the location has changed. Advertising of the change of location should be at least as wide as the original advertising for the event or raffle. The goal is to get notice of your location change to all individuals who purchased raffle tickets. Advertising could include on websites, Facebook pages, email, mail, newspaper, etc.
2. On the date of the event at the original location, post flyers regarding the change of drawing location.

- B. Large Events. With large events that need additional time to get all sold tickets turned in, take the following steps:

1. If a large event, like an expo, is canceled you will need to do one of the following:
 - Conduct the drawing at a different location.
 - Conduct the drawing on a different date, time and location.
 - Cancel the drawing altogether. If you cancel, you must refund all money. You may not convert it to a donation by the purchaser.
2. In all instances, you must advertise any event cancellation, postponement, or change of location. Advertising should be at least as wide as the original advertising for the event. The goal is to get notice of your location change to all individuals who purchased raffle tickets. Advertising could include on websites, Facebook pages, email, mail, newspaper, etc.
3. If you cancel the drawing, you will need to follow the cancellation procedures noted at the at the end of this document.

Important Note: No tickets may be sold after the date and time of the listed drawing.

Canceled Raffle/Drawing – The entire raffle is being canceled.

1. You will need to follow the procedures to cancel the drawing, set forth on page 4 of this document. You must refund all money. You may not convert it to a donation by the purchaser.
