Department of Administration Announces $8.8 Million in Public Facility Grants

The Department of Administration (DOA) announces it is awarding $8.8 million in Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Public Facility grants. These public facility grants will help communities across Wisconsin improve streets, water systems and build new community buildings.

“With these grants, Wisconsin communities are able to construct new community centers and fire stations as well as streets and other infrastructure,” said DOA Secretary Mike Huebsch. “These grants help to ensure that Wisconsin residents have a safe community to call home.”

Funding for these grants is provided by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. DOA’s Division of Housing awards these grants annually through a competitive process.
